Opening Schools Safely in Light of COVID-19

UCLA Experts in Conversation

• What is the science behind health and safety in schools?
• What are some challenges for re-opening safely?
• What are some best practices for safeguarding health?

Join us for this important webinar
Wednesday, August 5, 2020
5pm PST
Register Here

Howard Blume
Moderator
Howard Blume covers education for the Los Angeles Times. He’s won the top investigative reporting prize from the L.A. Press Club and print Journalist of the Year from the L.A. Society of Professional Journalists chapter. He co-hosts “Deadline L.A.” on KPFK.

Tyrone Howard
Professor of Education, UCLA School of Education and Information Studies, Co-Director UCLA Pritzker Center for Strengthening Children and Families, Director, Center for Transformation of Schools at UCLA and Director and Founder, Black Male Institute at UCLA.

Georgia Lazo
Principal, UCLA Lab School. Lazo has been an educator for 30 years and has taught at the elementary, secondary, and adult school levels. She served as a Director of Instruction for LAUSD, and was the founding principal of the UCLA Community School.

Nava Yeganeh, MD, MPH
Dr. Yeganeh is a visiting Assistant Professor in the Department of Pediatrics, Division of Infectious Disease at the David Geffen School of Medicine. Dr. Yeganeh is an attending physician at Mattel Children’s Hospital, teaching infectious disease fellows, pediatric residents and medical students.

This is the first in a series of webinars examining school safety in light of COVID-19.